Background

The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

Since 1994, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals in Ukraine, carrying out a variety of local programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law. IRI plans to conduct sixteen focus group that will explore the post-election environment in four cities and citizen perceptions of public services and decentralization reforms. These FGD series will be used to incorporate input from target beneficiary groups to develop IRI's questionnaires and identify gaps in IRI's programming and opportunities for further activities by exploring perceptions of decentralization reforms, civic engagement, and the responsiveness of local governments.

Period of Performance

December 15, 2020 – November 30, 2021, with the option to extend for a total duration of up to 5 years up in four one-year increments.

Statement of Work

IRI needs to:

- 1. Understand how Ukrainian youth (18-35) view local governance in their cities, pathways for citizen engagement, and citizen perceptions of public services. Among 18 to 35-year-old Ukrainians in four cities, how do participants describe their views of local governments following Ukraine's local elections? What ideas do they have to strengthen youth and community engagement? How do youth view older Ukrainians levels of engagement and differ in their perceptions of the importance of civic engagement? What challenges do they face and what are the causes of these challenges? What do they think can be done to address the problems? What groups and institutions could help to address these problems? How do they assess the efforts made to do so? What sources do these different age groups use to learn about and stay abreast of local issues and national issues and through what media outlets? What are the key public services that 18-35-year-old participants identify as needing improvement? How do these focus groups view government institutions?

2. Understand how middle-aged Ukrainians (36-50) view local governance in their cities, pathways for citizen engagement, and citizen perceptions of public services. Among 36 to 50-year-old Ukrainians in four cities how do participants describe their views of local governments following Ukraine's local elections? What are their key concerns? What ideas do they have to strengthen youth and community engagement? How do these 36-50-year-old participants view the engagement of younger Ukrainians? How do 36-50-year-old participants differ in their perceptions of the importance of civic engagement? What barriers to civic engagement do 36-50 years face? What do they think can be done to address the challenges? What groups and institutions could help to address these challenges? How do they assess the efforts made groups and institutions aiming to facilitate increased citizen participation in local governance? What sources do these different age groups use to learn about and stay abreast of local issues and national issues and through what media outlets? What are the key public services that these 36-50-year-old participants identify as needing improvement? How do these focus groups view government institutions?
3. Understand how political party and civic activists view Ukraine's ongoing decentralization and opportunities for increased political engagement among fellow citizens. In what ways do citizens engaged in political parties and Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) see Ukraine's decentralization processes increasing citizen engagement at the local level? How are decentralization reforms affecting the provision of citizen services? How can parties and CSOs encourage citizens engagement in participatory government functions? What do these informed political party members and civil society representatives believe to be the biggest points of citizen frustration with public services? What role does the media and social media play in engaging citizens? What do political parties and CSOs identify as the biggest challenges facing local governance?
4. Understand how local government officials (LGOs) and government service providers view citizen services, engagement, and decentralization processes. In what ways do LGOs see decentralization processes increasing citizen engagement at the local level? What steps are local governments taking to increase citizen participation and engagement in local government processes? What steps are local governments taking to improve citizen services? How do local government officials view the needs of youth and older age groups in their cities? What are the deficits of knowledge that would benefit newly elected local governments in Ukraine? What can local governments do to increase citizen engagement? What can local governments do to improve public services? What models are local government officials and government service providers using to design their programs? What do LGOs believe nongovernment organizations can do to improve public services? What role does the media and social media play in engaging citizens? What do LGOs identify as the biggest challenges facing local governance?

METHODOLOGY

The questions above are best addressed by a focus group study. Sixteen groups in a total of four cities, each lasting approximately 90-120 minutes and attended by 8-10 participants (6-8 participants if conducted virtually), should take place. The four cities (one in the north, one in the south, one in the east, and one in the west) will be distributed across Ukraine and be decided in consultation with IRI.

Youth Focus Groups (18-35)

All participants should be:

- 18 to 35 years old males and females
- Must be recruited from different neighborhoods within the research location cities
- Completed secondary education
- Focus groups should not include youth participants who are actively engaged in a political party, youth group, or non-government organization
- Participants in the same focus group session may not know one another.
- No participants may have participated in a focus group or in-depth interview study in the past 12 months.
- If the groups are conducted virtually, the offeror needs to ensure that participants have access to the discussion platform (e.g. Zoom) and to a reliable high-speed internet connection. Potential participants who meet other recruitment criteria but lack the means to participate in an online FGD must be accommodated.

Focus Groups Middle-aged Ukrainians (36-50)

All participants should be:

- 36 to 50 years old males and females
- Must be recruited from different neighborhoods within the research location cities
- Completed secondary education
- Focus groups should not include youth participants who are actively engaged in a political party, youth group, or non-government organization
- Participants in the same focus group session may not know one another.
- No participants may have participated in a focus group or in-depth interview study in the past 12 months.

Focus Groups (for political party and civic activists)

All participants should be:

- 18 years or older, males and females
- Must be recruited from different neighborhoods and organizations within the research location cities
- Completed secondary education
- Participants in the same focus group session may not know one another.
- No participants may have participated in a focus group or in-depth interview study in the past 12 months.
- Members of the focus group should be active in political party work or nongovernmental work

In-Depth Interviews or Focus Group Interviews (LGOs, including Local Government Service Providers and leadership of Center for Administrative Services)'

All participants should be:

- 18 years or older, males and females
- Must be recruited from different neighborhoods within the research location cities
- Completed secondary education
- Participants in the same focus group session may not know one another.
- Participants should not have common acquaintances
- No participants may have participated in a focus group or in-depth interview study in the past 12 months.
- Members of the focus group should be former or current local government officials or local government service providers.
- Offeror may propose to conduct 3-4 In-Depth Interviews (IDIs) per city instead if this would lead to a more open discussion with LGOs. The IDI would use the same discussion guide as the FGDs.

Focus group and IDI composition:

- Among each set of sessions in the same city, all groups shall be made up of a roughly equal division of men and women. In each city four focus group sessions will be held- One group shall be made up of youth (18-35), one group shall be made up of adults (36-50), one group should be made up of Ukrainian citizens who are part of an NGO, engaged in a political party or active in local politics in some other way such as working to improve local governance or campaigning around some local issue. This group should include political party members. The group focused on LGOs and service providers should be made up of LGOs and individuals involved in the administration of services through a Center for Administrative Services, law enforcement, or other aspects of public service provision as measured by IRI's Nationwide Municipal Survey.

GENERAL RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE OFFEROR

IRI is cognizant of challenges associated with the Coronavirus. IRI is open to the offeror's recommendations in the proposal to mitigate risks. IRI will accept participant recruitment by phone/online, and online FGDs as long as the bidder is able to demonstrate that online fieldwork has been carefully planned for success.

Offeror will be responsible for managing all logistical aspects of the project above and should engage local support staff as necessary to complete the following:

- Screener. IRI will provide a draft screening questionnaire within two weeks of contract award based on the specifications above. The Offeror will review offer edits within three working days of receipt. Following IRI approval, the Offeror will translate the screener into Ukrainian and Russian. IRI reserves the right to review the translation prior to recruitment launch.
- Recruiting participants. Offeror will recruit all participants according to the screening criteria listed above. At least one week prior to the start of the first focus group session, the Offeror will provide a brief description of the composition of the groups in terms of age, gender, occupation, etc. Offeror should recruit 8-10 participants for each group (6-8 for online FGDs) as well as 2-3 alternates in case any of the original participants are unable to participate. All participants will be required to give written informed consent to participate in this study. IRI will provide draft informed consent language which may be adjusted by the bidder in order to conform to any specific legal requirements in the research country.

- Discussion guide. IRI will provide the draft discussion within four weeks of contract award. Offeror will be welcome to offer suggestions for improvement and is expected to format and translate the discussion guide into Ukrainian and Russian. IRI reserves the right to review the translation(s.) At least one week prior to the first planned session, the discussion guide will be piloted with a group of 8-10 pilot participants who fit the recruitment criteria. This pilot will be moderated by the same moderator who will moderate the actual groups. The pilot session(s) will be video (preferred) or audio recorded and the recording will be provided to IRI. The Offeror will prepare a 1-2-page pilot report, based on a template provided by IRI. Once IRI has reviewed the template, some modification of the discussion guide may be required.
- Focus group moderator. Offeror will provide a trained and experienced moderator for groups in each city. The moderators should familiarize him/herself with the topic of discussion prior to the groups.
- Observation. The Offeror will provide an opportunity for IRI staff to observe the focus group discussions in person (COVID-19 restrictions allowing) or remotely.
- Recording of the audio of focus group discussions and/or video record all aspects of research necessary for full and accurate data collection, transcript generation and inclusion of illustrative samples in the final analytical report. Offeror will film focus groups and film should be high quality with clear sound. If participants do not consent to videotaping, audio recordings are acceptable.
- Written summary of focus group discussions. Offeror will provide a 2-3-page written summary of the focus group discussions in idiomatic English within one week after the final focus group session. A template will be provided by IRI.
- Transcripts. The Offeror will provide IRI with full verbatim transcripts in English of each group that will identify each participant speaker by number or first name to link each comment to the participant's gender, exact age, education level, city and occupation.
- Written analytical report. Offeror will analyze all discussions and write and edit final analytic report (see Deliverables) for review, editing and acceptance by IRI within four weeks of the final focus group session. IRI will provide a report template. The report is expected to synthesize findings across all participants and all discussion sessions, while noting to any major differences of opinions between participants and sessions. ## Evaluation and Award Process

1. IRI may contact any Bidder for clarification or additional information, but Bidders are advised that IRI intends to evaluate the offers based on the written proposals, without discussions, and reserves the right to make decisions based solely on the information provided with the initial proposals. IRI may but is not obligated to conduct additional negotiations with the most highly rated Bidders prior to award of a contract and may at its sole discretion elect to issue contracts to one or more Bidders.
2. Mathematical errors will be corrected in the following manner: If a discrepancy exists between the total price proposed and the total price resulting from multiplying the unit price by the corresponding amounts, then the unit price will prevail and the total price will be corrected. If there is a discrepancy between the numbers written out in words and the amounts in numbers, then the amount expressed in words will prevail. If the Bidder does not accept the correction, the offer will be rejected.
3. IRI may determine that a proposal is unacceptable if the prices proposed are materially unbalanced between line items or sub-line items. Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.
4. IRI will conduct a source selection based as follows:

IRI intends to make an award to the responsible Bidder based on the following evaluation factors:

- a) Technical evaluation, (including technical capabilities, proposed technical approach, and personnel qualifications) – 20 percent
- b) Methodology for selecting focus group participants – 20 percent
- c) Methodology for conducting focus group discussions – 20 percent
- d) Sample of previous group discussions results/reports – 20 percent
- e) Price – 20 percent

IRI intends to evaluate Bidders' proposals in accordance with these factors and make an award to the responsible Bidder whose proposal is most advantageous to the program.

5. If a cost realism analysis is performed, cost realism may be considered in evaluating performance or price.
